

The English Link

BEFORE YOU READ...

Baptizine is the English magazine that has been produced for more than 10 years, serving as a platform on which English can be used in authentic contexts. The magazine features a mixture of news of the school and a series of English activities that were organized in the past year to engage more and more students to enjoy the use of English and the ways to learn English which are accessible and found everywhere.

In this issue, there are two special feature articles that can catch your attention. One of the articles is written by Una, our exchange student from Norway, who shares her life and experiences after a-year long stay in Hong Kong. Another focus was the interview with the first principal, Mr Tam Yat Yuk, who will be leaving us after 19-year long service in BWLSS. In the article, he shares his passion and dream for English in BWLSS.

Like our regular practices, all the articles, are contributed by students themselves. Like the one which features the visit of a telecommunication company, students were indeed very inspired and their eyes were wide open and they started to think about education options and career opportunities. Don't miss their sharing!

And also there are...oh too much to miss. Let's explore this Baptizine through the link of beautiful English moments in our campus.

Principal Tam – His English Road and Dream

By Samuel Yuen and Pim Siu (2D)

The English level of our school is something that Principal Tam always cares about. Even when he is about to leave, Principal Tam encouraged us to do better in English in the following interview. Samuel and Pim have the story.

- Why do you think English is so important to a CMI school?
It is because in CMI School most students don't have many chances to be exposed to English. And when students get low marks in the DSE English examination, their parents will be disappointed because it takes away the chance to get into a university.
- What kind of school did you study? A CMI or EMI school?
I studied in Pui Ching Middle School, a very special CMI school, because we used English textbooks but were taught in Chinese in Maths and all science subjects starting from F.3.
- Did you use English in your daily life when you were a student?
Definitely no. I seldom had any chance to use English at that time in HK.
- Was English important at that time?
Yes, English was very important at that time if you wanted to go to university or get a government job or other better jobs.
- Did you like English when you were a student?
I didn't like or even hated English when I was a student because I was weak and I always failed in English tests and exams.
- Were you afraid of English?
Yes, I thought I could not learn well.
- Did you have any trouble learning English?
I had a lot of trouble learning English. Grammar was a big problem to me. The tenses are so complicated; it was so difficult for me to handle. Pronunciation was also hard for me.
- How did you overcome it?
I overcame English by repeating F.2 because I failed English. It is good for me. I could pass the HKCEE three years later. I had a chance to improve my English. I tried very hard and paid more attention to the lessons. I used a small notebook to collect useful English words and phrases.
- Do you like English now?
I like English now.
- What can we do to improve our English?
I think we can improve bit by bit. In my experience, listening and speaking are more important than reading, writing and spelling. We should watch English TV and listen to more English in our daily life. Then we can try to read English books or newspapers.

A final reminder from Principal Tam: Don't worry. If you really cannot learn English well, China or Taiwan may be another choice for your university education as they have lower English requirements.

After the water fight we were all pretty drenched. I am the second one from the left.

Feathers were flying during the pillow fight. I am no. 2 from the left.

Thank you for my class for such a memorable birthday.

By Una Eilersten 林悦雅

My name is Una and I'm a 17 year old exchange student from Norway to Hong Kong. I came here in August with AFS, a volunteer and ideal exchange organization, without political and religious motives.

As an exchange student in HK and a form 5 student at BWLSS, my time here has been both challenging and blessing, which have enriched much of my life experience. Even though I have encountered some bumps in the road, my stay here has been amazing.

The first thing that hit me (quite literally) when I stepped out the airplane was the heat and humidity. It was like stepping right into a sauna, that's how humid I felt it was. And because of the temperature and the weather I quickly learned to carry around with me a pack of tissues in every bag. I also became addicted to the air conditioners quite fast. But luckily the air conditioners can be found in almost every building, resulting in me trying to stay inside as much as possible to enjoy the cooling effect of the air conditioners. Hopefully I won't melt away too much before I leave.

The school is well equipped with air conditioners to deal with the heat of the summer, but not so much for the winter chill, which is understandable as the winter here is not that long or very cold, but when the windows are open all the time to let in fresh air, I can't help but feel a bit chilly. Almost every time I complain that I'm cold they will ask me "but you're from Norway, how can you be cold?" I find it a little bit funny when people get surprised when I tell them that yes, Norway do have summer too.

When I first started school I remember I was quite nervous, however, it later turned out that I had no reason to be. Everybody was super nice and welcoming and eager to get to know me. Now I feel pretty much at home in the class, which honestly didn't really take a long time. I can feel that the relationship between the teachers and students are very good and much stronger than what I'm used to back in Norway. The same goes for the bond between the students in the class, which is definitely something I'm going to miss when I go back home. Like when my class, 5D, had bought a cake and found a Norwegian birthday song I honestly got a bit touched.

With the other exchange students I've had a lot of fun, maybe the most memorable times being the pillow fight on the International Pillow Fight Day and the water fight in the streets on Thai New Year. Some 1000 people had gathered in Central for the pillow fight, many in costumes or pajamas. It was extremely freeing and fun to just let loose and throw pillows in each other's faces, even strangers. I had the same feeling when it came to the water fight. Even though I didn't have a water gun I had just as much fun throwing water from my bottle. But it wasn't only water that was flying around in the air baby powder was also thrown around and patted on our faces. I can't say I'm entirely sure what the baby powder was for, but it added colors to the fun as some people had both blue and pink powder.

However, the most memorable experience I have shared with the other AFS'ers would have to be the trip to Beijing in November. A lot of new food was tried during that trip, including scorpion and frog. The scorpion was actually not as bad as I had feared, it mostly tasted of spices. But there was another snack that is traditional for China and that I really loved, Tanghulu. It was really cheap and super delicious. And of course I got to see the famous tourist attractions like Tiananmen Square, The Forbidden City, Winter Palace and last but definitely not least, The Great Wall of China. To be able to walk on the Great Wall was so amazing. It was indescribable and it left me feeling speechless. It left me in awe to think that this enormous construction was built by humans and it was just impossible to wrap my head around.

Now that it's the end of my stay here in Hong Kong and at BWLSS, I'm happy to look back and remember so many good memories. Although it's going to be good coming home again, it's going to be really sad leaving here and saying goodbye to all my friends and my host family. With only a few weeks left I hope to fill that time with even more good memories which I can take back home to Norway.

Thank you to everybody who made this school year a year I will never forget.

On the Great Wall! I am the first from the left.

Here the whole lot is posing in front of Tiananmen Square. I am on the second row, no. 5 from the right.

I am so glad to be an English ambassador this year. Through the activities, I can learn many English words and improve my speaking skills. An English Ambassador has different jobs, e.g. The Song Dedication team and the movie team. In the movie activity, I have watched several movies, for example, "The Maze Runner" and "The Theory of Everything". I like this type of activities because I can learn English in many places at school. I have learned many different words too. I can also learn how to do a job with my teammates; I can watch some interesting movies; I can have the opportunity to do promotion on Campus TV.

I think I like English more after these activities. I must be an English ambassador next year.

By Dicky Lam (2D)

By Alvin Shum (2B)

I am an English ambassador. On Valentine's Day, I had the opportunity to organize an activity about one of the most popular festivals in Hong Kong. I have so much to tell you. I really hope I can find my true love in my life one day.

On that day, we started with a game about the history of Valentine's Day. Then we asked students to write love messages on a card for the people they care, including classmates or teachers. At the end of the day, a piece of chocolate was passed to each participant. The cards were collected and sent to the recipients the next day.

I hope you can find your true love in your life.

By Thomas Wong (2B)

I am so happy that I can take part in this Valentine's Day activity. It is because I can learn more about the history of Valentine's Day and I can learn what team work is in this activity. This is my first time to try this. Before that day, I was so afraid; and the biggest problem was on that day, I hadn't finished my English powerpoint yet, so I went to the computer room to finish it, but I need to go to Englishland at the same time. After a while, my English teacher came to the computer room and took me up to Englishland. When I saw Ms Fok, I knew I was wrong. Then Ms Fok told me to see her the next morning. I was so scared. The next day, I went to see Ms Fok in the morning. She asked me not to make the same mistake again ... and I know that I need to correct my mistake.

I think that, being an English Ambassador is not only to go to Campus TV and talk about something or take part in an activity, sometimes, like me you may also be lucky enough to learn a life lesson.

Easter Kinder Hunt

By Jenny Cheung (2C)

Hello, I am also an English ambassador. At the beginning, I was not used to doing this job because I need to use English to write a script and to talk with others, like students and teachers. Also, I had to learn some of the history of the festival, like Easter and Christmas. But I could learn many new words too! And I could go to the studio to promote some events. This is a great experience. These are the things I learnt.

About the Easter event, I learnt many things about our God and Easter like what Passover is and why we celebrate on that day. But I am most pleased that we could have one classic Kinder chocolate egg! I feel very happy because I have not eaten Kinder eggs for a long time, and I look forward to the toys inside!

And I really want to say thank you to Miss Fok. She helped us a lot with the power point presentation and the poster. Also, this event could build up a good relationship among all the ambassadors. Although sometimes I would feel tired, or I had some problems, my friends would help me, like how to read a difficult word, and it made me feel warm. I hope next year I can continue to be an English ambassador in our school.

By Maggie Chung (2C)

I felt very excited about the Easter activity 'Eggs Hunt'. It is because I could learn more vocabulary that I have not seen before, such as 'Resurrection Sunday' and 'Pasch' and also many other things about Easter.

On that day, we played a game called 'Easter Bingo'. Carmen, Jenny and I were the MC. I felt very scared at that time because I had no confidence to read the script correctly. Luckily, Jenny and Miss Fok helped me a lot, so I could make it. The students felt happy in the activity because they wanted to have a Kinder chocolate egg. When I saw them enjoy the activity, I felt very so happy because I worked very hard to organize this activity. Finally, we also got a Kinder chocolate egg. That moment was a happy moment because for many years, we had not eaten the Kinder chocolate egg, we missed it very much. When we ate this yummy chocolate egg together, this was probably the best thing of this activity.

Finally, I want to thank the teachers and students who helped me in the activity.

By Carman Yeung (2D)

This is the first time for me to participate in the English Ambassador scheme. This year I am responsible for the Easter Egg Hunt activity. At the beginning, I was very worried I could not do well because my English is not good enough, but after a period of time I thought it was not really that difficult, so I tried the best to do this activity. I enjoyed this activity very much. We discussed the idea and did some research about Easter on the Internet. We also designed some games for students to play in Englishland. We did a lot of preparation for this activity.

On that day, when the activity was going to start, I felt very nervous. First we played a game 'Bingo'. When the game started, there were a lot of words we could not read as we were so scared. Luckily, the teachers helped us read the words correctly. We were very grateful to our teachers' help. Finally many students completed the bingo game, then we gave them a Kinder egg.

In this Easter activity I have learned a lot of English words. This experience has enhanced my confidence, and I can speak English with more confidence. When I was collecting data, I could learn more about Easter history and find out the Easter origin. This time I felt very happy and meaningful because I have learned a lot. I want to thank our teachers for their help. I hope I can join the activity the next year.

A talk with the top - A Visit to CPC

By Jason Lee (5D), Sam Ip (5D), Stella Ng (5C)

It is interesting to explore an industry, so it is absolutely a fulfilling experience for students to visit CITIC Telecom International CPC Ltd., one of the biggest telecom companies in Hong Kong. Three of us had the precious opportunity to interview high-ranking staff from two different departments. Don't you think it is interesting for us as students to interview staff as if we were the boss? These departments are Customer Service and Information Technology and Security Services Department. Let's go to the content of our interview.

Customer Service

The first two interviewees are from customer service. They are Venus Wong and Joel Chun, who are the managers of the departments. To start with, we asked them about the standing of the company. They said that it was one of the biggest Chinese companies in the telecom industry and was subsidiary to CITIC. Their main services include telecom, VPN connection, Internet service, data center hosting and business connection.

Venus, the service manager, said she usually met customers face to face apart from working in her office. These duties seem like her daily routine but there are always challenges and problems to deal with. The first challenge is technology. Technology is being daily renewed and becomes complicated, especially in the telecom field. Every one of the staff should know the latest products and technology thoroughly. Staff needs to attend training programmes to learn the new technologies. That means, staff has to upgrade themselves although they are no longer students in school.

The other challenge to them is to work every moment. Venus mentioned her working hours were 24 hours a day like doctors because she had to reply and solve customers' inquiries instantly. Although the job is challenging, it is meaningful and rewarding.

For the reason why she joined the company, Venus said that CITIC was a sizable organization. Also, she wanted to try some customer-related jobs. That is why when we asked Venus whether she was happy about her job, it was a sure yes; she said she liked her job because she liked meeting with customers. Although she said that sometimes they had to work under pressure and reply the customers at once and at any time, she still liked her job.

Joel, the team manager of the Customer Service department, pointed out that the cooperation and team work with co-workers was the most difficult part of his job. As it is a company about technology, there are engineers to work with. However, engineers mainly focus on the technical problems and sometimes lack or neglect communication skills. As a result, Joel said managing different staff with different personalities and talents was rather demanding. I think this is a reality of the workplace that we have to be aware of if we want to succeed in the future.

Do you want to work in a company like this? If yes, please pay attention to the qualifications for the job. First, a bachelor degree is just basic while having a Master degree will be much better. Next, you should be proficient in Cantonese, English and Mandarin; of course, knowing more languages such as Japanese is better because there are more and more businesses with different countries around the world. However, these are again just the basics. Both Venus and Joel thought it was critical to have working experience, especially in the area of technology and management, because it indicates that you have learned skills and strategies to deal with different problems and situations in this field. Finally, applicants should be enthusiastic as well because it shows that you are passionate and love this job. So, do you think you are suitable for such a career?

Information technology and security services

Dennis Zhang, a security consultant, came from mainland through a scheme called IANG, which aims to bring more diverse talents with high caliber to Hong Kong. His main duty is to stop any cyber crime or attacks. He is like a security guard of the network system to protect the business of his customers by providing solutions. There may be many unpredictable problems caused by hackers. His team is there ready to solve problems with all their effort. The difficulty in his job is to solve hacking problems. 'You don't know what you don't know,' Dennis said. Hackers update their skills day by day. So do Dennis and his professional team.

Does Dennis love his job? Another sure affirmative. He loves his job because of his personality. He likes helping people, and feels upset when he cannot help customers to solve their problems. Moreover, he enjoys the daily routines of his position. He does his own job and collaborates with his IT team as well. He said that the IT industry developed at a fast pace, so nobody was always successful in this area. Another reason why he chose to work in this company is that he likes the post and the company promises young people good prospects. Finally, Dennis loves the air of freedom in Hong Kong.

For students like us, Dennis reminded us that we needed to think and work as a team because teamwork was very important. Next, it is about communication and presentation skills. Since customers are sitting in front of you, listening to you, interesting speaking skills can attract customers. Furthermore, if we cannot explain the products clearly, then customers will deem that you are not professional, so we need to keep learning and updating our knowledge all the time. Lastly, attitude is everything. I still remember a quote which Dennis told us that day: "today, I will do what most people won't, so that tomorrow, I can do what most people can't." Actually, this is an inspiring quote from Jerry Rice and I hope it can stay in your heart.

The job requires many technical skills and professional IT knowledge. All the workers are fond of IT or the Internet, so they will never be bored to do this job. Are you interested in IT?

We have to say again that it is really a fulfilling experience for us to interview three high-ranking professionals of the telecom field. This is more than an interview or English activity, it is an exposure to the real challenges and opportunities of the workplace.

English Assembly-English Variety Show

A wide variety of activities like English Drama, Acapella, Live Rock Band, and Solo-verse speaking were showcased to draw students' attention to the opportunities to learn English that are available everywhere!

Music Café has become a regular part among all English activities. Students did sing well with their great voice and singing in English seems to be undoubtedly a chance to find the joy and excitement in using English. Singing a capella has also been well-received by students. It is really a form of expression to appeal audience with voices to play as musical instruments. Not only did the Acapella team show the beauty of harmony and team spirit, they also were engaged in the sound, rhythm and intonation of the English language.

For the junior, we had scrabble, super TV and quiz shows. There was too much fun to describe.

AFS

Day Again!

The AFS Day has probably become a tradition of our school. So every year around May, we will have a bunch of teenagers from different countries and continents coming to our school, venturing into our classrooms, chatting with our kids, sharing their cultures, performing and fooling around in the hall and canteen, and even developing friendships. This is the point, the fun, the feature of the AFS Day. This year we have Elouise from Denmark, Veera from Finland like Una, Niklas from Germany, and Eleonora and Antonio from Italy. The following snapshots are just a reminder of how much fun and laughter we had in this year's AFS Day. See you then next year.

Behind the Scenes

Our Sparkling Stars

CASSIE ----- FUNG CIA (2B)

When I am/was 13.....

I am 13 now. I feel a lot of pressure from my studies because there are a lot of assignments and quizzes. Sometimes I want to escape but I know it is impossible, so I will try my best to learn to be a responsible student.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

Playing in "13" the musical is really difficult to me because I am not good at dancing. This musical reminds me of a lot of things that I am encountering in my real life. I will spend a lot of time on practising dancing, so that I can sparkle on the stage.

CHARLOTTE ----- WONG SZE WAN (4E)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, there were some conflicts between my classmates and me. I was so upset and frustrated that time.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I am happy to join this musical 13. To be honest, my English is not that good and it is a bit difficult for me to remember all those lines. However, I really enjoy achieving something with my friends and 13 has given me a great opportunity to learn new things!

MOLLY ----- LEUNG NGA WING (3B)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was thirteen, I started to become more mature although I was still quite naughty at that time.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

13 is a perfect age for me to have a self-reflection. I shouldn't rebel against my parents and make them angry again. I am now growing up so I have to be a good girl. I shouldn't make anyone worry about me again. And I can say I'm becoming a woman.

RICHIE ----- LAM YAT FUNG (3C)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I joined Musical Journey. I remembered the song "Thirteen". It was the first song I learnt in Musical Journey.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I am so excited to be given a chance to play a role in 13. Although I always sing badly, I try my best to improve. Also, I have met some new friends there and they have helped me a lot. I am so thankful to them.

SIMON ----- LEUNG CHI WANG (1E)

When I am/was 13.....

I am 13 years old now and I am very happy because I can be a member of Musical Journey.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

When practising for 13, I have learnt many things there and I feel excited. I know that I am becoming more mature and I will soon become a man. I really love acting and singing and I hope I can play musicals forever.

KID ----- LING WAI SZE (2C)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I felt amazed as I met many new friends and had a new and happy school life. But at the same time, I felt confused about my studies and homework.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I am so happy that I can participate in this musical. I can pass some messages to others through music.

KID ----- TSE WING YI (2D)

When I am/was 13.....

I am 13 now. I am a happy child and I am very curious about everything.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I am so excited to be one of the characters in 13. I like the character I play very much because she is a confident girl. This is the first time I try to do something totally different from my real personality and this is very challenging to me. Although it is difficult, I am still looking forward to this because I can work with other members together.

KID ----- CHEUNG HEI WAI (3B)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I was very excited because I made some new friends in my secondary school.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

This musical is about something that we can always see in teens lives. Also, I am so excited that I can be a 13-year-old child again!

Our Sparkling Stars

EVAN ----- YIP HO YEUNG (4A)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I got into the basketball team of the school which made me very excited. But at the same time, I needed to make a lot of choices and face different challenges about my studies and my personal life.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I was shocked when I was told to play Evan, the male leading role of 13. This is difficult because there are a lot of lines and songs to remember. The biggest challenge is I need to be 13 years old again!

PATRICE ----- HE YUNCHI (4C)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, there was tremendous pressure from homework and studies, which annoyed me a lot!

When thinking about 13 the musical...

This is the first time I am given the chance to play a leading role in a musical. This is absolutely a huge challenge to me! I can't deny that I am not experienced and I can't speak those lines fluently at the very beginning. But I am sure that I can make it if I keep practising. Moreover, this musical is about the agony, hope and relationship of a group of teenagers. Nowadays, teenagers easily feel dissatisfied. They may then say something inappropriately offending others and spoiling the relationship. So this musical reminds me to be nice to my schoolmates and the fellows in the society and treat others with proper manner and attitude. Lastly, I hope that you all enjoy this show and have a wonderful evening.

BRETT ----- YEUNG WAI CHIU (3D)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I had a lot of changes. Therefore, I am sure that I have become more mature in these few years.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

This musical reflects that we have a lot of challenges in our lives. We need to face them so as to achieve our goals. Now I finally understand the quote, "What doesn't kill you can only make you stronger!"

MALCOLM ----- LEE MAN LUNG (3C)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I noticed that my whole world was different. Everything became more difficult and I had to face many challenges.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I think acting in 13 is one the biggest challenges I have ever had. I feel nervous because we don't have a lot time to practise. And I hope we can make it finally with all our efforts!

EDDIE ----- KO TSZ TSUN (2B)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I won in a Maths competition. This award was very meaningful to me. Since then, I have become more confident about my studies.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I am happy to be one of the actors of 13 the musical because I can have a chance to act and sing on stage.

KENDRA ----- PUN YUEN NAM (2C)

When I am/was 13.....

I am 13 now and I am glad that I have a lot of friends. Friends are extremely important to me as I can share my ups and downs with them.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

This musical reflects the problems teenagers usually encounter in their daily lives. It can easily evoke resonance among teenagers.

ARCHIE ----- LAM HOI ON (3D)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I was invited to be one of the members of Musical Journey, I was so happy because I love music so much, and it built my confidence in singing.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

I think the musical 13 is a new challenge to me, because this is the first time I have a solo part. I am a bit nervous but I will try my best to sing as beautifully as I can.

LUCY ----- YAM PUI YI (4C)

When I am/was 13.....

When I was 13, I was nervous about being a secondary school student because everything was new to me.

When thinking about 13 the musical...

This musical is about some problems that a group of 13-year-old teenagers need to face in their lives. It is difficult to play the character Lucy because she is very different from the real me, but I hope I can do it well.

From the Director

Ms Lydia Pang

There are so many possibilities in adolescence. It's the age when ones meet new friends and learn new things. It's the age at which teenagers experience all kinds of emotions....they laugh, they love, they hate and they get angry. They may make mistakes, but at the same time they learn how to make right choices. They may feel miserable, but they can find their way out in the end. Each of them will become a very unique person who deserves to be loved and cherished. That is why we should respect each other's differences, and stop teasing and bullying others. Teenage life is full of possibilities, and most of them can become a better person.

Thank Principal Tam for being truly supportive to Musical Journey in all these years. His trust and generosity have greatly contributed to the students' growth and the success of Mj. His support to our production has enabled students to shine onstage and build up their confidence.

Thank Mr. Andy Nam and Mr. Alex Kwok for their help. It's great to work with them. Their strengths have compensated for my weaknesses and their brilliant ideas and professional expertise have enriched the performance. Finally, thank all my beloved Mjese for their hard work. I hope that their experiences in Mj not only improve their skills, but also develop their personality.

From the Assistant Director

Mr. Alex Kwok (Alumnus)

Staying in Mj is something that I will never feel bored. I used to act and sing on the stage when I was studying in Wing Lung. But now, I stay at the backstage. I would like to thank Miss Pang for giving me this opportunity to work with Mjese again. Becoming an assistant director, I have to take care of 16 actors and a team of backstage crew. It is definitely a challenge for me but I am sure I will overcome my nervousness because Mjese are smart and they always accomplish their mission unexpectedly well! To be honest, it is really not easy for 16 actors to run a one and a half hour musical since they have a huge time constraint. Their practice schedule is so tight that it is hard to deal with everything. It is also very difficult for them to memorize the scripts and songs within very limited time. Therefore, please give a big hand to them to show our appreciation of their efforts. Finally, thank you very much for coming and hope you all enjoy the show!

Synopsis of "13" the musical

Following a move from New York City to small-town Indiana, 12-year-old Evan has been struggling with his parents' divorce, preparing for his Bar Mitzvah, and navigating the complicated social circles of a new school. In order to make friends with the popular kids and have them attend his Bar Mitzvah, he makes bad choices which hurt his true friends' feelings. But finally he learns the meaning of true friendship and is ready to start his life at the age of 13.
