

Principal's Letter (3)

Teachers point all of you in the right direction

September 10, 2015

“Point your kids in the right direction—when they’re old they won’t be lost.”

Bible Proverbs 22:6 (Message)

Today is Teacher’s Day. It is truly my pleasure to say thank you with all my heart to all our teachers. Baptist Wing Lung Secondary School is a big, lovely and cheerful family. All teachers are energetic and they devote their effort to cultivating your lives and encouraging all of you to strive to become talents so as to make you get ready to serve our society with God’s glory, gracefulness as well as kindness. Our teachers have been investing most of their time not only in sharing with you their knowledge, but also in caring your different needs. Some of our teachers even pay home-visits to students in need so as to fill your families with true love and they all have developed life-long friendships with each other. I hope all of you would treasure the time with our teachers because they are all wholeheartedly guiding you to grow healthily and to accept challenges courageously.

We should all have sincere gratitude for our beloved teachers. So, I would like to encourage all of you to fill in the teacher’s cards to say thank you to our beloved teachers and to support them to continue to take up all the upcoming challenges in guiding every one of you to grow and to blossom.

Again, I would like to take this opportunity to truly thank all our teachers. They all make Wing Lung a family full of true love and life-long friendships.

Last but not least, I would like to share with you what Bible says about teachers. It describes teachers’ unconditional love and passionate life-long guidance to students as “pointing all of you in the right direction – when you are old, you won’t be lost.”

May God bless all of you with joy, peace and good health. Thank you very much.
